MANAGEMENT DISCUSSION AND ANALYSIS (MD&A):

Global Economy:

The global economy was hit by unresolved structural fragilities and a barrage of stocks leading to a major sell-off in risky assets across global markets in 2011. Confidence also deteriorated sharply, escalating financial stress further leading to a contraction of the euro area economy. Real GDP also contracted in Japan, due to supply disruption from floods in Thailand and weaker global demand. However, activities in the United States accelerated in the latter half with growing consumption and pick up in investments. Credit and the labour market also began to show some resilience. The engines of growth, the emerging and developing economies, saw activity softening in 2011. Labour market conditions are likely to remain very difficult in many advanced economies. However, consumption dynamics in the emerging and developing economies have been strong which is consistent with strong labour markets. In various emerging market economies notably China, real estate markets are cooling down, which implies slowing investment in construction. Inflation risks in emerging market economies have kept policy on tightening mode for most of 2011. Except oil, other commodities prices have not seen much appreciation in prices as recovery in global economy stalled. Emerging markets would likely see inflation elevated with oil prices still high and economies operating close to full capacity plus supply side disruptions. Balancing between inflation and growth would be a challenge for policy makers in emerging world.

The International Monetary Fund in its World Economic Outlook (WEO) expects world economy to grow at 3.5% in 2012 and 4.1% in 2013. Growth is likely to be led by emerging and developing economies again, which are seen growing at 5.7% in 2012 and 6.0% in 2013. Advanced economies are expected to grow only by 1.4% down from 1.6% in 2011. The WEO projections assume that policy makers will prevent a Greek-style downward spiral from taking hold of another economy on the euro area periphery. However, additional support will be provided only if market turmoil intensifies. Thus, sovereign spreads and euro area banking system stress indicators are expected to remain volatile and come down only gradually.

Indian Economy:

After two successive years of fairly robust growth of 8.4 per cent, GDP is estimated to decelerate sharply to 6.9 per cent in FY 2012, with a marked slowdown in agriculture, mining and quarrying, manufacturing and construction sectors. The estimated level of growth of 6.9% in GDP in FY 2012 was comprised of lower growth in all sectors; 2.5% growth in agriculture, which fell from 7.0% in FY 2011; 3.6% in industry vs 6.8% growth in FY 2011; and 8.8% in services vs 9.2% in FY 2011. The growth slowdown was driven by a sharp fall in investment, some moderation in private consumption and fall in net external demand industrial growth slowed sharply during FY 2012, led by contraction in mining and poor performance of the manufacturing sub-sector. Industrial activity lost steam on account of weak demand for consumer durables, reflecting interest rate sensitivity, deceleration in external demand and subdued investment demand due to decline in business confidence. The drag from investment is likely to continue in the near term. Corporate investment intentions continued to drop during Q3 of FY 2012.

India's investment growth is hampered by resource constraints. India imported 75% of the crude oil requirements in FY 2012 with imports growing 31.5% in FY 2012. Gas imports made up 24% of total consumption in FY 2012, as imports grew by 23.5% despite a 3% fall in consumption. Coal demand grew by 9% in FY 2012, while domestic production grew only by 4% resulting in larger dependency on imported coal. India's import dependence and the much higher levels of international pricing of these resources recently compared to past makes our growth vulnerable to external shocks. India's investments in infrastructure sector, particularly power sector, would remain constrained in this background.

Fiscal balances have also deteriorated sharply with center's fiscal deficit rising to 5.9% of GDP in FY 2012 from 4.6% of GDP in FY 2011. The deficit is much higher tax revenues especially from corporate and higher non plan expenses mainly on account of lower disinvestment receipts and significant slippage on subsidies. The fiscal deficit is budgeted to improve in FY 2013 to 5.1% of GDP. However, it is important to note that fiscal consolidation as envisaged is subject to risks, especially with respect to subsidies and lower tax revenues.

FY 2013 is likely to be a year when the economy recovers slowly from the large negative output gap. The growth in first half of FY2013 may be dragged down by low pipeline investment but demand conditions may improve slowly. On a lower base, the odds favour an improvement in agriculture growth. This with some improvement in external climate and measures to address the supply-side bottlenecks would support improved industrial performance. If fiscal pressures are contained, the interest rate cycle could turn, further supporting investment. Persistence of high global oil prices and slowing growth in the euro area and China, however, pose downside risks.

Inflation

The recent fall in inflation has been largely supported by transitory factors such as seasonal decline in vegetable prices and favourable base effect. However, demand moderation, reflected in the dampening of the pricing power of producers has also played a role. Meanwhile, more permanent supply-side responses, for example in the dairy sector, have just begun to take shape. Going forward, inflation in FY2013 is likely to remain around current levels. Importantly, the near term inflation trajectory is subject to significant upside risks, in particular from high oil prices and unsustainable levels of suppressed inflation, the lagged pass-through impact of rupee depreciation, higher freight rates and taxes, sustained wage pressures and the structural nature of protein-food inflation.

Company's Financial Review

The Company has earned net profit of Rs. 94.57 Lakhs for the year 2011-2012 as compared to a net profit of Rs.173.56 Lacs earned in the previous year 2010-11. The company's profit declined in the year under consideration basically due to volatile market and uncertainty in business environment.

Resources & Liquidity

Company has deployed the liquid resources, in units of Mutual Funds and Bank Deposits to earn dividend and interest and reinvested these funds in stock market and commodities market wherever it was considered appropriate, taking into account all relevant factors affecting the business.

Industry & Development

Growth in emerging developing economies has also started to slow down from the second quarter of 2011. Initially, this was the result of macroeconomic policy tightening in attempts to curb emerging assets price bubbles and accelerating inflation. From mid-2011 onwards, growth moderated further with weaker external demand from developed countries and capital flow reversals. Growth in emerging and developing economies is expected to average 5.75% during 2012 – significant slowdown from the 6.75% growth registered during 2011. The concerns on the slowing Indian economy were reaffirmed with Q3 FY2012 GDP growth at 6.1%, the lowest since Q4 FY2009. The Index Industrial Product (IIP) was volatile through out FY2012 on the back of tight liquidity situation which has prevailed for almost two years now. The slowdown in GDP growth witnessed over the last two quarters is likely to extend into FY2012 on account of the weakness in investments. In response, and bolstered by softening in inflation during the last few months, the Reserve Bank of India announced a 50 basis point cut in policy rate in April, 2012. More particularly for India, Investors will closely look at Government's policy action before further committing to long term capital investments in the country. Such policy actions include addressing infrastructure bottlenecks, raising FDI limits in retail and aviation, providing clarity with respect to GST and DTC rollout, having a roadmap for subsidy and fiscal deficit reduction etc.

Business Review

A combination of global factors has therefore resulted in volatile equity markets, periods of significant FII selling and a weak Rupee, which depreciated to a record low of Rs.54/ - to the US$ in December 2011. Compounding the issue in the already challenging environment are recent announcements in relation to retrospective change in rules to bring under the tax ambit offshore transactions involving Indian assets and introduction of General Anti-Avoidance Rules (GAAR), which has the potential of overriding the Double Taxation Avoidance Agreements (DTAA). A bulk of foreign investment into India is through tax efficient jurisdictions and such retrospective change in rules has only added to the increasing discomfort of foreign investors.

The performance of the company has been below expectation. However, the improved business strategy and plan of the Company enabled the company to sustain and was able to prevent erosion in capital. The expected growth in the industry will really provide the opportunity to the Company to invest in selected high profile companies and opportunity in the commodities markets to improve its performance in the years to come. On stability of the market conditions, the fund available with the Company will enable it to enter into the market in large scale, on appropriate time.

Your Company focuses on making investment/trading in such industry/products, which provides the company high revenue/gain as well as capital yield with cautious approach.

Opportunities & Challenges

Your Company, with its diversified portfolio of investments and trading strategy with available liquid funds was particularly well placed to benefits on improvement in the sentiment in market.

Risk & Concern

Company's performance is closely linked to Indian Capital and Commodities Markets and risk associated with market operations.

The value of Company's investments may be affected by factors affecting capital and/or commodities markets, such as price, volume, volatility, interest rates, and currency exchange rates, flow of foreign investments, changes in government policies, political, economic and other developments, inflation, crude oil prices and global economic performance.

Company believes that the long-term growth of Indian Economy, being emerging and developing remains intact though there would be several short-term upheavals like high inflation, interest rates in India etc.

The Company manages the risk by diversifying its investment portfolio, by maintaining a conservative financial profile, by following prudent business & risk management practices, hedging the risk of investments on the advice of the expertise equity/ commodities research team engaged by the company.
